

PRIVACY POLICY

We appreciate your interest in our web site. The safeguarding of your privacy in the collection, processing and use of data during your visit to our website is important to us. Your data are covered by the statutory provisions. Below you will find information on what data is acquired during your visit to our web site and how this is used and for what purposes:

1. ACQUISITION AND PROCESSING OF DATA

Each access to our web pages and each time a file is accessed will be logged. The storage of data is used for our internal system and statistical purposes. The following data is logged: name of the file accessed, date and time of the access, volume of data transmitted, notification of successful retrieval, web browser used and the domain requesting the data. In addition, the IP address of the computer requesting the data is logged.

In addition, we use session cookies which store data in the memory of your browser. These data are used for communication with your computer while surfing on our sites and are erased when your browser is closed. You can prevent the storage of the cookies by using your browser settings. If you do not accept cookies, this may lead to functional limitations in our offers. Personal data are only collected when this information is provided voluntarily, as in the context of a request or a registration.

2. TRANSMISSION AND USE OF PERSONAL DATA

If you provide us with personal data, we will only use it to answer your questions, to process contracts concluded with you, and for technical administration.

Your personal data is only transmitted to third parties or otherwise when it serves the purpose for concluding a contract, or if required for accounting purposes, or you have previously given your consent. You have the right to revoke consent at any time with effect in the future.

The deletion or blocking of stored personal data is effected if your storage consent is revoked, when the purpose of storage is no longer valid or when its storage is inadmissible for other legal reasons.

3. RIGHT TO ACCESS DATA

If you wish to have information about your personal data or its correction, deletion or blocking or any other questions about the use of your personal data, please write to us.

4. SECURITY ADVICE

We strive to protect your personal data through technical and organisational measures to avoid them being accessible to others. When communicating by e-mail, data security cannot be guaranteed so we recommend the use of the post for confidential information.
